UK's 'fastest growing' consultancy scouting new talent at The Consultancy Careers Fair

< Rapid growth signals ea Consulting Group's need for 250 new recruits >

London, October 9, 2008 – The UK's fastest growing management consultancy, ea Consulting Group (eacg), is scouting for new recruits at the Top-Consultant's Consultancy Careers Fair. The careers fair takes place on October 9th and 10th at the Barbican Exhibition Hall in London and provides visitors with the opportunity to meet with recruiters from a broad spectrum of leading consultancy firms. The eacg team will be on hand at stand 15 to meet potential recruits as the company seeks to take on 250 talented new people to help drive its continued growth and success.

eacg has established relationships with hundreds of top quality business professionals, with further access to the wider market place. All contacts are selected and placed on the basis of their skill sets, fields of expertise and personal traits into a wide variety of exciting roles. Operating mainly in the financial services sector, eacg is seeking consultants to work on a number of projects within some of the world's leading banks and financial institutions.

Mike Davies, Director of Resourcing and Recruitment at eacg, said: "There are so many options for those looking to break into a consultancy role, as well as for experienced individuals looking to move into perhaps a more dynamic and challenging environment. At eacg we offer the chance for individuals to grow into their respective roles by providing them with the right type of training and development programmes and by giving them the opportunity to work alongside some of the brightest and most experienced people in the industry."

He added: "Our growth figures speak for themselves and our aim to recruit 250 new consultants is testimony to our success as an organisation and as a consultancy."

In the last three years the company has experienced 53% growth in terms of turnover and in the last twelve months has assigned around 250 consultants to consultancy projects globally.
